

Actis Technologies launches its Ed-Vantage initiative in Hyderabad

Andhra Business Bureau

Sep 16, 2010

HYDERABAD: Actis Technologies, an audio-visual solutions provider, on Thursday, launched its Ed-Vantage initiative in the city. The company's initiative is to campaign the benefits of its product.

The company provides connectivity solutions in high- definition video and audio communication for business requirements across the corporate, government, hospitality, educational and residential segments.

"In India, around $ 400 billion would be invested on education sector in the next 10 years, according to Kapil Sibal, Union Cabinet Minister of Human Resource Development, Government of India. In the next 30 years, education sector is poised to become the largest sector in India. India will have 44 million students and additional 40,000- 50,000 colleges will be required in the next decade. Information and Communication Tehnology is the basis for the progress of society and the nation," said Abhimanyu Gupta, Director, Actis Technologies.

"Our solutions are cost-effective for Indian educational sector. This initiative in Hyderabad will make policy makers and educational institutions experience applications solutions installed systems in real, fully-operational rooms.The company also plans to launch its Actis Experience Center in Hyderabad," Mr Gupta told reporters on Thursday.

He further added that the training room at the experience center would have tools like interactive white board, high-resolution document camera, intelligent lectern and speech reinforcement tools making the process of learning more interactive.

Actis Technologies has a employee strength of 220 members spread across its 8 branch offices in India. The company also has experience centers in Mumbai and Chennai.